There will be many drum corps in town today (Saturday), when the Odele M. Chapman Continentals will stage their second annual parade and field day. The parade and field day will be held in the afternoon, closing with a dance in the evening at the town hall. Thirteen or more organizations in this state, Rhode Island and Massachusetts have so far accepted invitations to participate in the parade and the contest. The following entries have been received: Windsor Locks Pipe, Drum and Bugle; First City Pipe, Drum and Bugle corps of Bridgeport; Sons of Father Matthew's Drum corps; Pawtucket, R. I.; Plainville Pipe and Drum corps; Center Pipe band of South Manchester; Eagle Drum corps of Moosup; Assumption Pipe band of Chicopee, Mass.; Highland Pipe band of Westbury, R. I.; T. A. B. Drum corps of Naugatuck; Manchester Elks band of South Manchester; Silk City Pipe band of South Manchester; Talcottville Pipe and Drum corps. The march of the parade will be Major James Guilford. The parade will form on Valley street at 2:15 o'clock, headed by the line of march will be on Valley street, down Windham to Main, down Main to Union to Jackson to Main street to Recreation park, where the field contests will be held, starting at 3 o'clock. The judges will be G. H. Hanks of Mansfield, Frank Fancher of this city and Harold S. Baldwin of Milford. Twenty-one prizes have been offered in the 12 field events and in addition gold and silver medals will be awarded to the best appearing majors, also for baton swinging. The prizes are the most expensive ever offered at any field day event in the city. The cups are now on exhibition in the show window of Leonard Bros. garage on Main street. The field day is sanctioned by the Connecticut Officers and Drummers association. The chairman of the field day program is Peter LaChance, and the chairman of the dance committee, Joseph Nolan.

All the corps from out of town are expected to report at the Valley street armory, headquarters of the general and parade committee, by 1 o'clock, to have the parade in motion at 2:30 promptly. The Odele M. Chapman Continental Drum corps was organized on July 12, 1921, less than one year ago, and in that short time has acquired much fame and won several cups in competition. The first field day was staged on Oct. 15, 1921.

It was declared Friday that contributors must be more generous if the raising of the $12,000 for the local Y is to be accomplished. According to reports, the Y has been received which nearly touch the $3,000 mark. This means that those who can afford more must do so if $12,000 is to be attained. The campaign started off with more or less of a flurry with a $1,000 contribution from one interested citizen and a few donations of $100 and some of $25, which gave the workers great heart and courage. Since then has been discouraging. Frederick Kaye, the executive manager of the campaign, declared Friday that he did not want this lack of spirit to cast any shadow on the endeavor to raise the fund. He said that the workers are cause any lack of energy on their part, as he felt confident that in time, when the real need of help and the cause of the need was placed before the people, they would respond and there would be no such word as failure. He related his experiences in the Hoover and other patriotic campaigns and said that the result was always the same and that the campaign that will make history in the progressive life of Willimantic. It cannot, it will not, must not fail. When I say we are disappointed in the number of small contributions, I do not mean that the association is not grateful to those who have given to the best of their means. Many a contribution of a dollar means more to the Y than a contribution of $100 or more might mean to others more fortunate situated in worldly goods. It is impossible to tell the exact amount of money that has been received, but as the contributions that came in Friday had not been tabulated. There will be a meeting of the campaign general committee Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, when all the reports will be received and plans for the continuation of the campaign decided upon. Supper will be served previous to the meeting.

Arrangements are being perfected for the staging of the sixth annual Spaulding Chautauque in this city in July. Louis H.
